

AN AQUIFER EXPLAINED

Some of our drinking water comes from aquifers at Tea Gardens and Nabiac. An aquifer is a body of porous rock, sand and sediment that holds water underground.

Check out the picture to find out how the process works.

To find out more about our water supplies, visit www.midcoast.nsw.gov.au/watersupply